THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN WESTFIELD'S MONTHLY NEWSLETTER

Staffing for A Better Ministry

Since 2016, PCW experienced the loss of three full time pastors to personal, career and family moves. Interims have supported PCW over the last four years, however it is time to rebuild the staff with permanent dedicated and inspirational leadership. In September, Pastor Rev. Jeremy Jinkins, acting with the Personnel Commission, asked Session to charter a Task Force to assist in discerning the best organizational model for the future of PCW.

The Organizational Structure Task Force studied this matter deeply and reviewed multiple realistic models for the best staffing possible. In its findings, the Task Force makes the case that PCW values impactful worship, fellowship, hands-on mission, and learning, the pillars of how this congregation practices faith in the community. In addition, the church has long held that mission and outreach are core values, while recognizing that the congregation has struggled at times to make this visible in the community. Finally, the congregation has a deep tradition of cross-generational ministries and has a deep desire to reclaim and further this strength.

After deliberation of several staffing options, the three-pastor model has been validated with adjustments made to make the overall function of the pastoral and program team stronger. The Task Force uncovered ways of creating positions that would: (1) ensure that the gaps in care and ministry support that have existed in the past, often through the emergence of programmatic silos, are a thing of the past, and (2) provide expanded role scopes that would be more attractive to the most talented candidates, and give them a ministry setting in which they can thrive for years.

The positions would cover the following areas:

- Pastor who serves the leadership and staff of the church, and who has a specific focus on the supportive ministries of the church that allow our programmatic ministries to thrive, along with worship leadership and preaching, vision-setting, and stewardship of our resources and core values.
- Associate Pastor to serve our children and youth, and their families from cradle to young adults returning from college, and serve as a connection with families in our larger community.
- Associate Pastor to serve life-long engagement with a particular focus on learning, fellowship, and the care of our adult members, from singles and empty-nesters to our senior members.

Staffing for A Better Ministry (continues)

Central to the new definition of Job Roles, pastoral staff members will:

- Be actively engaged in worship; strong preaching and teaching abilities;
- Develop and train leaders, providing inspirational leadership to staff, officers and lay-leaders;
- Proactively play a key role in supporting our stewardship and funding efforts;
- Drive engagement in Mission & Outreach and cross-generational activities that foster transformational encounters with the divine.

The Associate Pastor for Children, Youth, and Families (AP), leading with inspiration from the Holy Spirit and through spiritual practices, study and prayer, will be a teacher, as well as a leader, supporting the development and growth of the next generation of believers from birth through young adulthood. The AP will partner with the congregation to focus on the needs and challenges unique to people according to their stage of life by encouraging, mentoring and collaborating with staff and volunteers. Through opportunities including Sunday school, mid-week programs, vacation Bible camp, middle school and high school programs, Agape, inter-generational worship services, retreats and mission projects, the ministry will seek to connect across all age groups to weave together the entire PCW community in Christ. The AP will provide opportunities to both better support and more fully integrate the on-campus Presbyterian Nursery School and Kindergarten (PNS&K) and Time Out for Parents (TOPs) into the life and ministry of the church. Through this pastoral position, the church will be better positioned to provide comprehensive pastoral care for growing families, provide a common vision across age groups and facilitate the transition of members of the church family from one group to the next.

To reflect the focus on being a part of the team ministering to children, youth, and families, the PT Director of Christian Education role finds a new title as PT Director of Children and Families and continues its emphasis on Sunday School, Church on Wednesdays (COW), and other family-oriented formation.

Leading with a passion for connecting people and helping others engage their faith in new ways, the Associate Pastor for Congregational Life would be accountable for the overall vision, strategy and execution of congregational care, faith formation and fellowship in concert with the vision of PCW. A Pastor to adults during all of life stages, she or he fosters life-long learning in connection with Faith Formation and Mission. By further expanding a strong volunteer ministry of Deacons, Stephen Ministers, and other leaders this pastor will guide the implementation of our hospitality programs that welcome and encourage engagement and relationship building and mission endeavors as well as coordinating pastoral care with the other clergy colleagues across the congregation.

A new position, Manager/Director of Communication, has been recommended to personnel. This position elevates the support for this key function in the church and will promote integration and support across all ministries. Communication is paramount both in outreach to the larger community and congregation in today's society. Over the last couple of years this role was developed under the umbrella of Administrative services and the church welcomes the ability to now hire specifically for the skill sets that will carry PCW's mission and ministry forward.

A role for Manager/Director of Youth Ministry was added in 2019, and an on-going search is in progress, which has been affirmed for future staffing as a critical support to the ministry to the youth and families, not only of the congregation, but the broader community of Westfield and surrounding area.

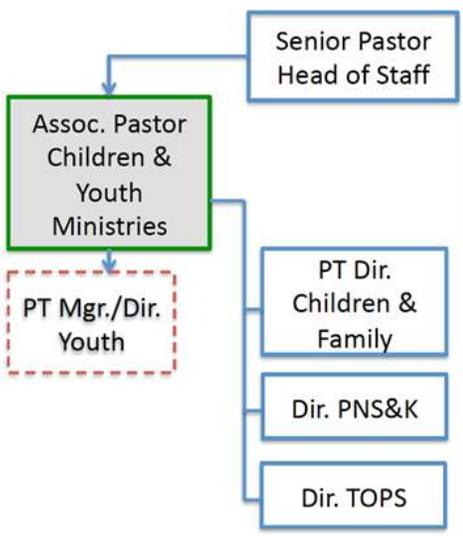

PCW's Creative Worship Team needs your help!

We need your hands-on help for a craft project. We are making paper prayer doves to hang in all of our worship spaces during Lent. Join us on Friday, February 21st from 6:30pm-9pm in Assembly Hall for an evening of fun and fellowship. Light supper will be provided.

Let us know you want to join us by calling the Church Office (233-0301) or Nancy Smith (654-9477) to sign up!

Proposed Organizational Structure

NEXT STEPS

As Presbyterians, we are connected to others and our leaders do not work or lead alone. The Presbytery Commission on Ministry (COM) will be reviewing our request to elect Associate Pastor Nominating Committees (APNCs) and helping us understand how best to move forward. Once we have that guidance, our Session will call a congregational meeting to elect slates that will have been organized by the Congregational Nominating Committee for service to the church. We will continue to update the congregation on this phase of the process as we continue to work with leaders in The Presbytery of Elizabeth.

From Our Director of Music

Hello Everyone,

A belated "Happy New Year" -- I hope your 2020 is off to a good start.

At the time of this writing it is mid-January, and while there is a bit of snow on the ground and it is cold, in the church-planning part of my mind, the coming season of Lent is not far away -- Ash Wednesday is February 26. And with Ash Wednesday, we begin Year TWO of 40 Worships in 40 Days. Beginning In mid-February, devotional materials and worship plans for Lent will be available in all of our worship spaces and throughout campus -- please take a package for yourself and offer one to a friend.

In various spaces in congregational life, we've spoken about the idea that we are always worshipping something, but the question is -- what is that something? Louie Giglio (in his book The Air I Breathe) defines worship as "our response to what we value most." He goes on to ask "... how do you know where and what you worship? ...simply follow the trail of your time, your energy, your money, and your loyalty...the trail never lies...We may say we value this thing or that thing more than any other, but the volume of our actions speaks louder than our words."

I'll admit that writing the last paragraph made me uncomfortable. I spend lots of time in church, at church, thinking about church, even planning various forms of congregational worship, yet writing that last paragraph made me uncomfortable. Here's the good news, though: all the time, every day (not only during Lent), we have a new opportunity to worship God above all else -- to re-orient ourselves toward walking the path God wants for us. The only difference during Lent is that we might talk about it more.

I often think of the act of being a church together as "walking with each other, walking with God." During Lent, in our worship endeavor, know that our community is at worship every day in one place or another, one way or another. Hopefully you'll be able to be part of some of these moments. When you can't be here, on Sunday or other worship occasions, be comforted knowing that your church community is still at worship -- for and with you. Walking with each other walking with God means all the time, whether in close physical proximity or not.

Hope to see you in worship during Lent and any time -- I look forward to it.

It's February, stay warm. See you in church!

- Paul

Faith Formation

What is Happening with Faith Formation?

We started 2020 with a new Adult Education program, "Winter Prayer" based on a book by Prof. Daniel Migliore of Princeton Seminary and his co-author, Kathleen Billman. This program which includes presentations by Prof. Migliore and small group discussions will enable us to understand the depth of spiritual growth and the generation of hope that can come from lament and grief. If you are interested in participating, please contact Alan Smith, Alandsmith518@gmail.com, or Lisa Black, lmb.blacklaw@gmail.com, for more information.

The children's education program continues with Sunday School and C.O.W. (Church on Wednesdays) We are looking for volunteers to teach on Sunday mornings, so if you are able and willing to spend a Sunday morning helping to share your faith with the children of our congregation, please contact Christine Treger, ctreger@westfieldpc.org, to get on the schedule. The lessons and supplies are provided.

Ash Wednesday - February 26, Faith Formation will sponsor an intergenerational service, "Ashes to Ashes" from 5:00-6:30 pm. Dinner is included along with a story and a little something that will remind us that we want to know more about God and we achieve this by growing closer to God. ("Come near to God and God will come near to you." James 4:8). Ash Wednesday is the first day of Lenten Hope! God's children of all ages are welcome to come participate, eat and receive the imposition of ashes.

Teacher Training - The next session is scheduled for Monday, March 9th at 7:00 p.m. This is an opportunity to get an overview of the Bible lessons for the next quarter, as well as some teaching strategies.

If you have ideas for Adult education programs or opportunities you would like to participate in, please contact Christine Treger, ctreger@westfieldpc.org and Lisa Black, lmb.blacklaw@gmail.com to share your ideas.

Baptism Instruction Class

Baptism is the sign and seal of our incorporation into Jesus Christ. It is God's gift of grace and calls us to respond to that grace. It marks the new beginning of new life in Christ. It unites us with Christ and one another. Baptism holds theological meanings of dying and rising with Christ, pardon, cleansing, and renewal, the gift of the Holy spirit and the incorporation into the body of Christ. PCW offers a Baptism Class for parents requesting a baptism of their child.

The Baptism class is a pre-requisite to the child's Baptism. (Parents must be members of PCW.) Baptisms are held on the second Sunday of each month. Baptism classes are on Sunday after church (11am) and led by The Rev. Cindy Bowman and scheduled quarterly.

If you are planning to have your child baptized in the coming year, please plan on attending one of the quarterly Baptism Classes listed below. The next class is scheduled for February 2, 11am in the George Plenty Room. For more information or to register, please contact Rev. Cindy Bowman, cbowman@westfieldpc.org or 908.233.0301 ext. 37.

2020 Baptism Classes: February 2, June 14, and September 27.
